SAN DIRGO, Cal., Dec. 26.—Sunashing HARRISON ELEVEN he flanks, hading the ball with accuracy and catching it with equal precision, combining power and speed with resourcefulness and dazzling brilliancy, the Centre College football team this afternoon proved altogether too much for the University of Arizona cleven in the San Diego Stadium. The Praying Colonels from Danville, Ky., marched to glory through the rain which charred the event and the slippery slime underfoot, and won by $8 to 0. What Centre might have done to the lighter and outclassed. have done to the lighter and outclassed Wildcats on a fast field may be only

The Colonels put over a couple of touchdowns in the first quarter and sent over a third in the second period, which ended with the score 18 to 0. In the third session there was another touchdown, while in the closing period the Centre scooters scurried over the line twice, making six touchdowns in all, with four goals missed. The rain made it difficult to boot the ball over the bar. Arizona had a chance to score in the third period when, with grit and gameness, the Wildcars worked the ball within striking distance of the Centre was all set for the move. It diagnosed the play to a nicelty, intercepted the pass, and then began to work the ball back. It worked it until it sent over a touchdown. It was an invincible crew.

The rain marred the game and the spectacle. Not more than 3.000 persons braved the downpour to see the contest, and sat raincoated, huddling under umberllas. This morning it looked as if the event would have to be called off or postponed. Centre was anxious to have it over with and to move on to Texas. It is to play the Texas Aggies at Dallas next Monday.

With honors even in the first half, during which not a single goal was scored, the Brooklyn Football Club team to such good purpose that the opposing eleven of the Viking Football Club suffered defeat at New York Oval by 4-0. Ten minutes after the restart McChesnic, by a clever individual effort, opened the scoring for Brooklyn. Immediately afterward McChesnie, off a pass by M. Whalen, put through another and Brooklyn led by 2-0. Five minutes later Crann passed to Rew in center, who shot the third goal. The last and beet goal of the game was driven in by Rew from 20 yards out. The lineup:

Protected by Insurance.

Forty-eight consecutive hours of rain and no letup in sight caused a meeting to be called hastily to decide whether the game should be played. The game was insured for $25,000 against rain, with the provision that the money should be paid if one-tenth of an inch of rain fell between $130 A. M. and 2:30 P. M. to-day. The insurance company paid the difference between the gate receipts and the amount of the policy.

Coaches Moran of Centre and McKale of Arizona declared they were willing to have the game played in any sort of weather. The committee in charge deto have the game played in any sort of weather. The committee in charge decided that the game would be played regardless of weather conditions, although the field was a quagmire and the sale of seats had been comparatively small.

In the first half the Wildcats did not make a first down and throughout the same they rarely had possession of the hall. In the third and fourth periods they made a few good gains, but were enable to maintain a continued drive. The work of Roberts map articularly noticeable, his sensational catches of forward passes, his line bucking and his work in interference being cheered by the spectators.

Roberts made Centre's first touchdown within five minutes of the opening gun. With Roberts leading the interference, McMillin and Tanner carried the ball to she Wildcats 3-yard line, where the Arizonians held Tanner and McMillin, but were unable to stop the Centre end, who hacked across the line. The second half and this was maintained record when, after bucking the ball down the field, McMillin went through right guard flewillin failed in attempts to kick the first three goals. In the third beried Arizons rallied and davanced, but Tanner intercepted a forward pass lehind his own line and the Kentuckians ploughed down the muddy field to fincher score, Snoddy carrying the bail ower. Roberts kicked goal.

Covington scored Centre's fifth touchdown when standing on his 50-yard line he caught an Arizona punt and ran inrough a broken field for the tally, loborts missed goal.

Charley" Dryden, dean of Charley" Dryden, dean of Sascball writers until he was stricken with paralysis last summer, has sent a Christmas message to President William L. Veeck of the Cubs and his friends among baseball writers who remembered him with a Christmas token. From a hospital at Biloxi, Miss., where he is convalescing, the former bas:Dail writer sends the following message:

"Holiday greetings to the ball club and baseball writers. Their token brought me great pleasure and comfort. Some frameup on me. Departing from my usual program. I will trade your token for an eight cylinder nonskid rolling chair in which to speed the time away until the happy day I am able to make a home run to my faithful frienda."

Centre proved too strong for Arizona in every department and in every feature of football. The Kentuckians had by far the more brilliant individuats and by far the more potent ensemble. The great Bo McMillin scurried hither and thither and delighted expert and tyro alike with the spectacular manner of his progress toward the Wildcats' goal line. Red Roberts was another brilliant line. The Red Roberts was another brilliant.

It was the Jerseymen's game all the way through and by half time they had star.

Snoddy, Tanner and then a youngster by the name of Covington, who also distinguished himself late in the Centre triumph over Harvard, gave football followers here an exhibition such as San Diego never had seen. Covington rapifity yards for a touchdown after catching a punt, and scored again soon afterward.

Centre had the advantage in the weights. The Colonels averaged 185 paunds on the line, with an average of 168 in the back field, while the Arizona averages were 176 and 153. Centre tackled with far more expertness and its end play was so far beyond that of the Wildcats that there was no comparison.

Barely had the hand class ended when Martin shot his trusty left to the chin and Dwyer, who had not had time to get his guard up, fell like a log. There is some question as to whether a handshake does not come under the provisions of the "clean break" rule, which requires contestants to step back without a blow.

It was sharp practice on the part of Martin, but until there is an official rules, on the point others may try the trick.

McCoy tinally decided he would have to employ strategy in order to bring about the downfall of his huge opponent. Therefore, just as Plaacke was about to rush at the Kid, McCoy said:
